DENTAL/ANESTHETIC AND MEDICAL CONSENT FORM Feline Prophylaxis

The following procedures will be performed today:

Pre-Anesthesia Exam

Pre-Anesthetic Testing – Because of our commitment to providing you with the highest quality of veterinary care, we require pre-anesthesia testing. Each dental or anesthetic procedure has some risk involved. Advances in anesthesia have made routine procedures relatively safe, but occasional problems can occur due to pre-existing conditions not evident on physical examination.

HEALTH SCREEN II ● We need a urine sample. Please collect at home or refrain from letting your pet urinate on the way in to the hospital.

- PCV (detects anemia)
- Platelet estimate (clotting ability)
- Total Protein (assesses hydration and protein level)
- BUN and Creatinine (kidney)
- Urinalysis (kidneys and diabetes)
- ALT (liver)
- ALP (liver and adrenal glands)
- Glucose (low or high blood sugar)
- Sodium, Potassium, Chloride (electrolytes can be abnormal with many diseases)

IV Catheterization - for fluid therapy, IV medication or any emergency drugs if necessary

Fluid Therapy – intravenous fluids to maintain normal blood pressure, preserve hydration and ensure adequate blood flow to vital organs

Anesthesia/Monitoring – respiration, blood oxygen level, EKG, temp, CO2 levels and blood pressure

Anesthesia – pre medication, IV and gas anesthesia

Oral Exam – under anesthesia, evaluate each tooth and x-ray any problem areas only when necessary

Dental Prophylaxis – teeth cleaning (scaling & polishing)

Full mouth radiographs – radiographs of all teeth to look for evidence of disease below the gum line

Fluoride Treatment

Recovery Monitoring – including pain assessment

Hospitalization

Total Cost: $484.00

Please initial consent for extractions. Only diseased or painful teeth are removed.

_____ I Agree to Pay Additional Fees For Tooth Extractions

Extraction fees vary ($20.00 - $200.00) per tooth, dependant on the number of roots and extraction time. Cost of multiple extractions can add $200-$800 to the procedure.
